LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT.

ST. MARY'S HALL, BRIGHTON.

August, 1924.

DEAR MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATION,

The echoes of the "Old Girls' week-end" are sounding in my ears as I write, and I want to thank those who came, for the happiness they brought with them, and those who could not visibly come, for the thoughts and wishes which they sent to add to our joy. Such days of happy fellowship, when past and present lose their boundaries and take on a new and timeless meaning, not only are good to remember in themselves, but add strength and reality to the corporate life of the School: we are your thankful debtors for this gift.

News of your doings has been welcome as ever all through the year—please send more, and yet more! Our budget of news relates no stirring events, but it has been a happy year, and the growth of the School has been steady. We have, in fact, outgrown our playing-grounds, for two hundred girls must find scanty what half that number scarcely found enough. So the Committee who have taken in hand the raising of a Memorial Fund in memory of our friend and Treasurer, the Rev. Henry Venn Elliott, have decided to apply the Fund to a cause which he would have specially loved, namely—the provision of more playing-ground. Please read the paragraph about this which appears later in the News-Letter.

Another matter which may be of special interest to you all is that during the past year the Trustees have bought the remaining house in Hervey Terrace, so that all four are now the property of the Hall; as numbers increase, this block will be converted into one large house for boarders.

So the work goes on: and it does seem true, that the School was meant to weather its storms, and live, and grow. There is a great deal of hard spade-work still to be done, but we can face it with good hope, for the history of the past few years shows what power of growth and larger activity was lying dormant, and what help comes to those who help themselves. It may be an airy dream as yet, that when the old School keeps her hundredth birthday we may see her firm on good foundations, and freed from that fear of insecurity which has so often spread under her walls a chilly and dismaying tide: it may be an airy dream, but dreams as shadowy have turned to truth before now, and if the work be of God nothing will be able to overthrow it.

Yours affectionately,

F. L. GHEY.

THE HENRY VENN ELLIOTT MEMORIAL.

A small Committee has offered to serve in the work of gathering a Memorial Fund to provide a new playing-field for the Hall, in memory of our friend and Treasurer, the Rev. Henry Venn Elliott. He loved to see the girls at games, and one of his cherished wishes was that we should have more ground. A piece of land on our North boundary is available, but is very expensive, as Lord Bristol means to develop this estate for building purposes. For two reasons, therefore—to commemorate our friend and benefactor, and to save our grounds from being immediately overlooked—we must all do our utmost to secure this ground, which the School needs most urgently. Old Girls who will help are asked to communicate with Miss Ghey early in September. Suggestions as to ways of raising money will be gladly received, as will donations of any amount.

AN APPRECIATION.

" Plying their daily task with busier feet,
Because their secret souls a holy strain repeat."

SURELY these words must have occurred to many when they read in last year's News-Letter that dear Miss Neilson had been called to Higher Service above.

All who had the privilege of friendship with her, and all who talked with her for only a few minutes, would equally testify that her greatest charm was the unfailing music of her " secret soul." Her ready sympathy, her keen sense of humour, her gentleness in rebuke—so faithful, but never deteriorating into mere fault-finding—her glad smile and cheerful talk, all witnessed to the true harmony of her spirit, and " the heart at leisure from itself."

We may be inclined to think that the world is poorer because our dear friend has been taken Home, but example, good or bad, has an irresistible power which must leave its impress on all time ; therefore we know that her faithful service still goes on, helping those who are left.

Miss Neilson was not a pupil at St. Mary's Hall, but when she went there on a short visit in 1865, her capabilities as a teacher were quickly recognised, and she was asked to take a class of Juniors. In 1869, when Miss Lawford, the head Music Mistress, was ill, her duties were taken up by Miss Neilson and she was permitted to see much fruit from her quiet and faithful work until and after she left the Hall about 1895. We who knew and loved her say joyfully : " All is well."

XVIITH ANNUAL MEETING, S.M.H.A.

JANUARY 12TH, 1924.

THE Seventeenth Annual Meeting of the St. Mary's Hall Association was held on Saturday, January 12th, 1924, at Beatrix House, Cadogan Gardens, London, S.W. At 2.15 p.m. there was a short Committee Meeting, at which there were present :—Miss Ghey (chair), J. Blackledge, Miss Galton, Mrs. Macfarlane, Miss Perry and Miss Webster. The Agenda for the afternoon was considered.

The General Meeting, after half-an-hour had been given to conversation, was opened with prayer at 3.15 p.m.

The following, in addition to the Committee members already mentioned, were present :—

Miss Bolton, Miss Elkington, Miss Harewood, Miss Mace, Miss F. M. Potter, Miss H. R. Potter, Miss F. G. Smith, Miss C. I. Taylor, Miss Waugh Miss Wright, Mrs. Aldford-Clarke, W. Batson, H. Bolland, Mrs. Coad, D. Cross, Mrs. Dalton, E. Dobson, C. Eacott, E. Fotheringham, A. Garforth, D. Gayer, G. Geary, M. Gill, L. Gunnery, M. M. Hall, R. C. Harris, A. Hazledine, E. Holland, G. Hunt, K. M. Jennings, F. Kyle, Mrs. Langdale-Smith, M. Lawrance, I. Leigh-Lye, D. Lilley, R. Manning, L. Martin, A. Mathias, A. Oliphant, W. Owen Smith, P. Pavey, R. Pelton, M. Phair, M. Segall, E. Sibthorp, M. Standage, J. Sutthery.

Messages from Miss Elliott and Miss Innes.—Miss Ghey gave the meeting messages of greeting which had come from Miss Elliott and Miss Innes, and the Secretary was asked to send a message in reply. At Miss Ghey's suggestion the meeting stood for a moment's silence in thankful remembrance of Miss Blanche Elliott, whose death had taken place since the last meeting.

Statement by the Treasurer.—Miss Perry stated that there would be a deficit on the News-Letter, even after all numbers had been sold, and asked whether this might be made up from the General Fund. It was proposed by Miss F. G. Smith, seconded by Miss Taylor, and carried nem. con. that this might be done.

Election of Officers and Committee.—Mrs. Macfarlane brought to the notice of the meeting the difficulty that had been experienced last year over the election of officers. The ruling was that the Committee should first be elected, and should then elect a Secretary and a Treasurer from among themselves. After last meeting a Committee was duly elected, but then, as no member was able to hold the office of either Treasurer or Secretary, Miss Perry and Miss Webster, who had resigned last year, had both resumed their offices for another year. Mrs. Macfarlane proposed that in future the officers should first be chosen, viz. :—Treasurer, Secretary, Editor of News-Letter, Secretary of London Branch, and then three ordinary members of Committee, making, with the Head Mistress and the Head Girl, the total Committee of nine. The proposal was seconded by C. Eacott, and when put to the meeting, was carried unanimously. Members were asked to volunteer or to make suggestions for different offices.

Lucy Raynor agreed to continue her work as Secretary of the London Branch, and Mrs. Macfarlane volunteered to act as Treasurer if relieved of her work as Editor. She proposed Jessica Sutthery for this office. Annie Hazledine seconded, and it was carried that Jessica should be asked to do the work for a year, at any rate, with the help of Gretel Hunt and Helen Henderson, who had written to Miss Ghey, volunteering to help. Mrs. Coad agreed to act as Secretary, and the following three members of Committee were then elected :—E. Sibthorp, C. Eacott and Mrs. Dalton. It was found that the time spent by these new Committee members at the Hall covered a period of 34 years, viz. :—1888 to 1922, and that the Committee was thus very representative.

Date of Annual Meeting.—Miss Ghey reminded the meeting that a ruling had been made in 1912 that the Annual Meeting should take place on the second Saturday of January and on the third Saturday if New Year's Day happened to be on a Saturday. This had been a very convenient date for some members, but not for all, and she proposed that an alternative date should be considered. After some discussion as to the possibility of replacing the Winter by the Summer Meeting, Miss Ghey put the following proposals to the meeting :—

(i) That an attempt should be made again this year to arrange a summer week-end re-union at the Hall, without business, as before ;

(ii) That next year the day of the Winter Meeting should for once be the last Saturday in January :

The first proposal was carried nem. con. and the second by a large majority.

News of the Hall.—Miss Ghey said that the latest step had been the buying of the rest of Hervey Terrace. No more houses were occupied at present, but there was a prospect of this happening, as the number of pupils was now 194.

Any other business.—In reply to a question about Life Subscriptions, Miss Ghey said that the Clerk to the Trustees had stated that Life Subscriptions of £5 would bring in the present yearly subscription of 4/- and would be a real advantage to the Hall. Two members had already subscribed in this way and she hoped others would soon do the same.

A. MACFARLANE, Hon. Treasurer, S.M.H.A.

S.M.H.A. (LONDON BRANCH).

THE Ninth Annual Summer Meeting of the London Branch was held on Saturday, the 28th June, 1924, by the kind invitation of Mrs. Greenwood (Zoë Rowland) at the Froebel Society's Rooms, 4, Bloomsbury Square, which were again kindly lent for the purpose by the Council at Mary Ostle's request.

Miss Ghey, our President, was able to be with us for part of the afternoon, and we were delighted to welcome Mrs. Frank Elliott, who came to represent the Founder's family, and who brought kind messages of greeting from Miss Elliott.

The following members were present:—Mrs. Coad, Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Harwood, the Misses D. Cross, V. H. Friedlaender, L. A. Griffiths, K. Jennings, J. Newton, M. Ostle, C. Peebles, F. Potter, H. R. Potter, G. Raynor, L. Raynor, B. Saunders, E. Sibthorpe, F. E. Smith, M. Waller and A. S. Webster. Alice Eacott and Ethel Lovelock came by special invitation and Mrs. Greenwood's two daughters came with Miss Lowy later in the afternoon.

After a succession of very hot days the weather had fortunately turned a little cooler, so that no one felt that a gathering indoors was unbearable, although it was warm enough to make Mrs. Greenwood's ices and strawberries and cream very much appreciated.

A delightful afternoon was spent and a very hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Greenwood for her kind hospitality was proposed by Miss Ghey and carried with acclamation.

A short discussion took place as to where to hold the next meeting, and it was agreed to have it again at 4, Bloomsbury Square, this, in view of its central position, having proved very popular. A kind offer of hospitality for the 1925 meeting was received from Mary Ostle and was gratefully accepted.

Note.—The Honorary Secretary would be glad to receive the names of any other members of the main Association who would care to join the London Branch. It is open to anyone working or living in London or the suburbs, and there is a Life Subscription of one shilling only.

BURSARIES.

Between 1923 and 1924 fifteen children have been helped by Bursaries of £15 or less. Part of this money came from Mrs. Campion's Fund for Sussex Clergy Daughters: the rest was given by friends, whose generosity has helped to cheer many an anxious parent. The Head Mistress is most thankful for even the smallest sums sent to her to be used in this way, for help with fees or outfit.

THE BIRRELL MEMORIAL FUND.

The Birrell Memorial Fund Grant for 1924 is awarded to Muriel Griffiths, to help her in her correspondence course.

School News.

CHANGES ON THE STAFF.

WE have had to say some "good-byes" this year to friends whom we were unfeignedly sorry to lose. Miss B. M. Pope left us at Christmas, 1923, and after a course of theological study at Oxford has just sailed to take up work as Mathematical Mistress at St. Stephen's College, Hong Kong, whose Head Mistress, Miss Middleton Smith, visited us just before Miss Pope left England, and gave us a graphic and delightful account of the School. Our affectionate thanks follow Miss Pope for her work here, in both class-room and playing-field, and we like to feel that we are linked through her with another School in the Far East.

Miss D. L. King, B.A., Honours Cl. I. (Mathematics), has come in Miss Pope's place and is heartily welcomed.

Miss Adamson, too, has left us to go overseas, for after some medical training she is going to teach in Kenya Colony. Miss Adamson had been with us only two years, but in that short time she had not only laid the foundations of capital work in Domestic Economy, but had won affection and respect from everyone: she will be greatly missed in all departments of School life, and takes our thanks and loving wishes with her. Miss Lock (from the Gloucester School of Domestic Science) is to come to us in Miss Adamson's place.

Miss Brinsmead leaves another great gap in the ranks, and will be very much missed by us all, and especially in the Science room, where her enthusiastic and devoted work had raised up an eager band of young scientists. We shall hope that the fruit of her work will be seen in College lists later on, and meanwhile we shall not forget her here, and shall hope often to see her again. Miss Brinsmead's successor is to be Miss E. S. Smyth, B.Sc., Hons. (Botany), who will find very sound foundations ready for her to work upon.

Then we have had to lose another valued friend in Miss G. M. Hensley, Old Girl of the School, and for the past two years visiting Pianoforte Mistress at St. Nicholas, where the children loved her dearly and their music flourished under her good teaching. We are more than sorry that Canon Hensley's exchange of livings takes Gwen away.

We lose, too, Miss Mortimore and Miss Collett, each of whom has done very good work as Assistant House Matron; and we are to have in their stead Miss Norah Wilson and Miss Dorothy Drew from Christ's Hospital, together with a French student from Amiens, Mlle. Yvonne Bruce.

GIFTS TO THE HALL.

OXFORD BOOKCASES have been given by :—

Miss Winterbottom	Subscription for Acting Cupboard.

St. Mary's Hall Diary, 1923-24.

Oct. 20th.—Mr. Cook gave us a most delightful lantern lecture on " Some British Painters." The coloured slides were really beautiful representations of the original paintings. He gave us an outline of the growth of art in England with reference to historical events, and to those to whom the pictures were old favourites as well as to those to whom they were new, the lecture was most interesting.

" The King's Falconer " by Holbein, Mrs. Siddons as " The Tragic Muse " by Romney, " Sir John Sinclair " by Raeburn, " The Hay Wain " by Constable, and Turner's " Venice " were perhaps the chief favourites. We are looking forward with great pleasure to the next three lectures of the series, of which this was the first.

Nov. 3rd.—Half-term week-end began. In the afternoon there was a scratch match. In the evening we had a fancy dress dance. Miss Ghey and all the Staff who were not away, were dressed as St. Mary's Hall of 1836 ; their dresses were by far the prettiest in the room. The Mad Hatter and the March Hare (Jean Harris and Joyce Brink) were the most realistic.

Nov. 5th was the half-term whole holiday. The weather was not at all promising, but, after waiting to see if it would clear, expeditions were planned.

Miss Ghey took the Hall for an expedition to Lewes by char-a-banc. They were all very much interested in the Museum and the Castle, in the courtyard of which was a sundial said to be the oldest in England. The drive back via Poynings and the coast was particularly beautiful. St. Hilary went to Pevensey by an inland route in a char-a-banc. The country was beautiful with autumn colouring. It rained hard most of the time, but it did not seem to matter much. The chief attractions were the Castle and the Old Mint.

As soon as every one had returned to School and had had tea, we set out to watch Brighton College fireworks. This was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. There was a large bonfire with a burning Guy in the middle and all kinds of fireworks being let off on each side, above, and even below you by small boys.

After supper Miss Ghey, and all the Staff who were in, did a play in two acts, called " The Mirror." They all appeared in tunics and overalls, with their hair plaited. The first act was an ear training lesson by Miss Miles ; the second an English lesson by Miss Wisdom. We were all interested to notice our special faults and failings ; such as Matron appearing in dirty games shoes, and Miss McMaster in gym. shoes. We all felt too weak with laughter to go to bed by the end of the evening. We considered by Monday night that we had never had a more enjoyable half-term.

Nov. 10th.—The annual sale for Foreign Missions was held. Miss Dorothy Maud opened it with an inspiring speech which was warmly applauded. Each House held a stall, decorated with its colours, in the Elliott Hall, and St. Hilary House organised " Houp-la " in the VIth form-room. Some of its youngest members did a most charming play, called " In Arcady."

There were also two performances of country dances, in which St. Hilary did one, the Hall two, and St. Nicholas two dances. The total amount taken was £61.

Nov. 19th was Prize Day and Founder's Day combined. Miss Sparks, Head of Cheltenham College, gave away the prizes. There were over seventy prize and certificate takers, and she spoke to each one individually. Her speech was appreciated by all, even St. Nicholas, for whom she had a special message. Everyone who heard her could go away feeling that she belonged to something greater than she had before realized.

Dec.—We had great pleasure in welcoming Mr. Cook, who gave us the second of his series of lectures on Art. This time he discussed Flemish and Dutch painters, and gave us beautiful reproductions of the works of Van Dyck, Rubens, Frans Hals, Rembrandt, and many other famous artists.

Jan. 17th.—The School returned.

Feb.—Mr. Cook gave us a lecture on Italian Art, and made us realise the beauty of the works of the old Italian Masters even more than we had done before. Many old favourites by Giovanni, Fra Angelico, Raphael, Botticelli, Leonardo da Vinci and many others were thrown on the screen and most interestingly lectured on by Mr. Cook. We are sorry that there is only one more of his delightful lectures to follow.

Feb. 23rd.—The Hall members of the VIth Form and some of the Lower V. acted Sheridan's " Critic," in aid of the Working Women's College at Beckenham. It was a great success both times and everyone enjoyed it immensely. The dresses and scenery were very good and the acting was splendid. We must specially congratulate Puff on his excellent rendering of a difficult part, and Tilburina on her realistic madness.

Before the performance of the play on Monday Miss Walters spoke a few words about the College. The sum of £4 4s. 0d. was sent to Miss Walters as the 1923 contribution to the Sixth Form Bursary.

Feb. 25th was half-term whole holiday and Miss Ghey's birthday. The house was very gay with all kinds of spring flowers. Miss Ghey gave the School the motto for 1924: "The green comes after the gray."

In the morning almost everyone set out armed with every available coat, jumper, etc., not to mention rugs, eiderdowns and hot-water bottles. Our destination was not, as might be conjectured, the South Pole or Mount Everest, but a morning's drive in open char-a-bancs. We had a lovely drive through Balcombe Forest, returning home in time for dinner.

In the afternoon matches were played, both hockey and netball, including Oxford v. Cambridge, Pale Faces v. Red, and a mixed game of hockey between teams composed of Mr. Powell, some Mistresses and some of the 1st and 2nd XI.'s.

Feb. 27th.—We had the pleasure of watching the first Greek play produced by our Classical Society. They acted some portions of the Agamemnon of Æschylus. It was a great success; the scenery and dresses, produced by Miss Irons, stage-manager, were especially appreciated.

March 9th.—We had the pleasure of a Lantern Lecture given by the Rev. J. E. Gardiner, on the experiences of a chaplain in Palestine.

March 22nd.—Inter-House Sports were held in the field. The Cup, presented by M. Hawkins, was won by St. Hilary. Form IVA won a trophy for gaining the most points as a Form.

March 25th.—Form Lower VB won the trophy at the drill competition. In the country dancing St. Hilary was first with 86½ per cent., and the Hall (Set F) second with 85½ per cent.

March 30th.—A beautiful concert was given on behalf of St. Dunstan's. The chief delight in the programme was the exquisite violin playing of Miss Lucchesi. The School contributed carols and songs, including Parry's "Jerusalem."

Summer Term, 1924.

June 16th was half-term. We all—that is to say, St. Hilary and the Hall—went over to Arundel by char-a-banc to spend the day in the Park. It was a perfectly lovely day. We were most disappointed to find that the tree which had made our dining-room when we last visited Arundel had been cut down; however, we found another lovely spot. After lunch we separated into different parties. Miss Wisdom took some people to see the Castle, but they were only allowed to see the Keep. Miss Miles took a few girls on the river, which was perfectly delightful, and the rest explored the Park in parties. We arrived back for high tea, and then there was dancing for all.

July 9th, Founder's Day. THE FATHERS' MATCH.—This match was a draw, the Fathers going in first and making 112, and the 1st XI. 75 for eight wickets. The 1st XI. fielding was very much praised by the Fathers and spectators. The 1st XI. had plenty of variety in bowling, as every member of the Fathers' team, including the wicket-keeper, who bowled in his pads, took his turn at bowling.

At 3 p.m. Lady Moore gave away the St. Nicholas prizes, and Lady Chichester took the chair. Lady Moore made a very charming speech about fairies and brownies, inspired by being told that every member of the House was a Brownie. She said that when her little boy asked her if there were really fairies, she now would say "yes" with a good conscience, having met at least forty Brownies.

At 5 p.m. St. Nicholas gave an entertainment. They acted some of A. A. Milne's poems, " When we were very young," and some of the poems from Strewel Peter. Some of the Juniors took turns in reciting the poems, while the actors filled in their own words and actions.

First a very realistic shock-headed Peter appeared. Fidgetty Phil executed a very successful tumble (I hope without any serious injury, except to the crockery). James James Morrison Morrison was perfectly charming. The little boy who only walked in the squares while the bears looked on, ready to seize him if he walked on the lines, did his part to perfection. The Inky Boys and the Blackamoor also deserve mention ; they came out of the ink-pot very speedily, and were almost blacker than ink.

July 19th.—Several girls from Upper VB acted the fairy scenes from " A Midsummer Night's Dream," which were much appreciated by the whole School. The dresses were very pretty, and the acting, especially that of Puck (Mollie Leachman) and Bottom (Vernon Whiteford), was very good.

July 20th.—Mr. Akhurst gave a most delightful lecture on Ruskin. He recited a considerable number of passages from his books, " Sesame and Lilies," " A Crown of Wild Olives," and other well-known works. We chiefly enjoyed the extract from " Mosses and Lichens." We have to thank Mr. Akhurst for introducing many of us for the first time to Ruskin, and making the rest of us appreciate his writing more than ever.

THE VITH FORM PLAYS.

On Saturday, July 26th, the VIth Form presented three of the " Plays of St. Francis," by Laurence Housman, before the School and visitors, to raise their annual subscription for the Working Women's College at Beckenham. These plays of St. Francis were four of a cycle, more of which Miss Ghey hopes will be presented by future VIth Forms.

The plays were acted well and were immensely appreciated by all present. The first one, entitled " Fellow Prisoners," showed Francesco and some of his friends in prison, awaiting their ransoms. St. Francis, or Francesco, as he still is, makes a great effort of self-sacrifice, which throws light on his most unselfish character. The next play, called " Blind Eyes," tells us the story of his conversion from the gay, careless youth, to the man who chooses to take poverty as his bride. The last scene takes place a good many years after, and shows the trial of one of the brothers of the order of Franciscans, though St. Francis himself, owing to jealousies, has been deposed from priorship. Brother Juniper is a simple, kind and lovable creature, and our sympathies are with him throughout.

On Monday, July 28th, two of the plays, " Blind Eyes " and " Brother Juniper," were repeated, and another one, " The Builders," was acted. This scene shows us the rebuilding of a ruined chapel by St. Francis and his friends and comes between " Blind Eyes " and " Brother Juniper." The performance was excellent and was a greater success, almost, than the one on Saturday, though both deserve the utmost praise.

The sum of £4 4s. 0d. as the 1924 contribution to the Sixth Form Bursary was afterwards sent to Miss Walters, whose presence and a ress at the first performance was a great pleasure to actors and audience alike.

SCHOOL WORK, 1923–1924.

HEARTY congratulations to J. Berwick, R. V. Elliott and E. Boden, in the Degree Lists of their respective Universities!

Irene Laurence has gained a place at the Royal Holloway College, and goes up this October (1924) to read for Mathematical Honours. Margery Emmet has gained a place in the Oxford Society of Home Students and will read for her degree in March. Gwendolyne Lake (whose Oxford Higher Local result is not yet out) has been awarded a Grant by the Council of Clapham High School and begins her Froebel training there in September. Eleanor Outram was hindered at the last moment from taking Intermediate Science, chicken-pox having most unfairly laid her low.

Five girls have matriculated (June, 1924) :—L. Oliver, J. Barton, S. Farnsworth, M. Bourdillon, C. Rowland. Six gained the General School Certificate, fifteen the Junior School Certificate (4 in Honours), and there were 56 Distinction Marks.

Beryl King deserves special mention :—General School Certificate (with two Distinctions) ; Music, Advanced Grade, Honours (Piano) ; Higher Division ; School Examination, Pass (Violin) : a good year's work.

THE SCIENCE CLUB, 1923–1924.

THE Science Club is now well on its feet and has had quite a full programme this year.

Thirty-two members of the Club visited Shelvey's Mineral Water Works, where they busied themselves with watching the manufacture of the mineral waters, helping to make sweets, and sampling the finished articles.

Evershed's Wax Candle Works were also visited by twenty members, who were much interested in the processes used in the manufacture of the different grades of candles.

The following lectures were given during the year :—

" Protective Coloration in Animals," by Miss J. Brinsmead.
" Wireless," by E. Gosney.
" Prehistoric Man," by G. Lake.
" The Manufacture of Paper," by J. Outram.
" The History of Chemistry," by M. Redwood White, to which lecture the Classical Society was invited.

Two demonstrations of " Chemical Magic " were given by two Magicians from the East (N. Shelton and E. Gosney).

The Science Club were invited by the Classical Society to a very interesting lecture on " The Position of Science in Greece and Rome," given by B. Bardsley. At the end of the term the Science Club presented Miss Brinsmead with a note-case, as a small appreciation of all that she had done to institute the Club and inspire its activities.

THE DEBATING SOCIETY.

THE members of the Debating Society have during the past year continued their discussions with undiminished versatility. During the Christmas Term there were four debates :—

" That the Present Age is degenerate. '—Defeated.
Oct. 13th : " That the Growth of England's Liberty was due to the Vices, rather than the Virtues of her Kings."—Carried.
Nov. 14th : " That Sunday Games should be established in the British Empire."—Defeated.
Dec. 6th : " That Protection would be more beneficial to this Country than Free Trade."—Carried.

The two latter were among the most spirited that the Society has had.

During the Easter and Summer Terms we were able to have only one debate in each. These were :—

March 1st : " That gambling is morally deteriorating."
May 21st : " That old Burial Places should not be disturbed."

Although many more members during the past year have taken a real part in the speaking than formerly, the younger ones are still rather too modest about their own views.

THE CLASSICAL SOCIETY.

THE CLASSICAL SOCIETY is small—there are but fourteen members—but all are very keen, so it flourishes cheerfully. During this year several of its members have read papers, which caused their writers much toil and anguish, but were enjoyable and edifying to the audience. Alethea Green read a very good paper on " Social Life at Rome in the Time of Cicero," Betty Bardsley read one on " The Position of Science in Greece and Rome," and Cynthia Rowland read one giving a graphic description of " The Underworld." Miss Irons also gave a lecture on Ancient Crete, which was very interesting to all of us. An amusing evening was spent in reading " The Frogs " of Aristophanes, and great merriment was caused among our " scholarly " members by the repeated " Brekekekcoax Co-ax " of the chorus. The crowning event of the year has been a performance (in English) of the " Agamemnon " of Æschylus. Agamemnon acted very well, Cassandra was blood-curdling in her madness, and Clytemnestra's hatred was intense, especially when she stood over Agamemnon's murdered corpse with most realistic blood dripping from her axe. All the other actors were also very good, and the chorus were quite venerable with their beards and white hair and leaning on their staves. The Science Club invited us to a demonstration of " Chemical Magic," and also to a lecture on " The History of Chemistry." We, on our part, invited them to our paper on Ancient Science, so relations have been friendly between the rival societies. The prosperity of the year is entirely due to Miss Irons, and the success of " Agamemnon " especially, was owing to her expert stagemanagership.

GUIDE REPORT, 1923–1924.

THIS year the ever-increasing number of Guides made it necessary to form a new Company, with Miss Brinsmead as Captain. There are now about 104 Guides, of whom about 60 per cent. have their second-class.

During the year we have had two visits from Miss Isaacson. In the Autumn she enrolled several new Guides, and gave away many badges, among which was one first-class, B. Bardsley. The same afternoon Miss Isaacson tested about twelve Guides for the Electrician's Badge.

Miss Isaacson again visited us and judged a Patrol Drill Competition, which was won by the Bantams, who only lost one mark. After the competition, Miss Isaacson gave away the remaining badges that had been won during the year. The most interesting badges were :—M. Dallimore's first-class, C. Girdlestone's Milliner's Badge, two Handywoman's (E. Outram and I. Laurence), and G. Austin's Toymaker's.

We have had many interessing and amusing competitions. The most amusing was one in the garden, in which each Patrol was given three poles and was allowed to use anything belonging to the Patrol, and with these had to make the most complete camp for two that was possible in a limited time. The competition was won by the Woodpeckers. Their camp was complete with every domestic convenience, including a coat-hanger!

During the year we have been corresponding with the Guides of Queen Mary's Hospital, Carshalton. They have a flourishing company, run by one of our Old Girls, J. Batson.

At the beginning of the Summer Term we were all looking forward to going to the Empire Day Rally. Unfortunately we were prevented from going, owing to quarantine. We tried to do our part by sending up contributions to the Schools' Arts and Crafts Stall. Among these were some very nice leather articles made by various Guides. The Guide Officers took part in the Rally, and enjoyed it very much.

The Company Cup was won for the year by " A " Company, and the Patrol Cup by the Seagulls.

We are very sorry to lose two of our Officers, Miss Brinsmead and Miss Adamson, who have both been so unsparing in their work for the Company.

GENERAL CRITICISM.

1ST XI.—The 1st XI. had a very successful season, having played and won ten matches. The weak spot in the team was the lack of combination in the forward line. Halves and backs combined well with each other and formed a very strong defence.

2ND XI.—The standard of play was not high in the 2nd XI. The forwards were not strong and lacked push, while the defence lacked combination, and were slow and rather unreliable.

The match was played during the Christmas Term, and resulted in a victory to the 1st XI. by 6 goals to nil.

In the return match, Miss King played in place of Miss Pope, and Miss Adamson instead of Miss Collet, and the result of this match was a victory to the 1st XI. by 7 goals to 1 goal.

S.M.H. 1st XI. v. Old Girls' XI.

The match against the Old Girls was played on Saturday, March 29th, on the School ground. After a very good game the School XI. defeated the Old Girls by 5 goals to 2 goals. A. Garforth, the Old Girls' Captain, played outstandingly well.

Old Girls' XI.—*M. Wall, *E. Fotheringham, *K. Ives, *A. Garforth, M. Lawrance, R. Pelton, *G. Hensley, E. Brocklehurst, A. Baron, E. Martin, M. Cook (goalkeeper).

ACCOUNT OF SWISS TOUR.

Miss Ghey, Miss Notley and Miss Galton very kindly took seventeen members of the VIth and Upper Vth to Switzerland for a fortnight in the summer holidays. We stayed at the Hotel Weissenstein on the Swiss Jura, situated on the mountains, commanding a marvellous view across 70 miles of country to the Alps beyond. Once or twice we saw this valley completely filled with clouds, while we on our side and the Alps on the other lay in brilliant sunshine. At night it was a mass of twinkling and dancing lights from the various towns and villages, giving a most wonderful effect.

We had many delightful long walks among the mountains, to Gausbrünnen, Selsach, the Montier Gorge, up the Hasenmatt, the Schiedemmatt and the Röti, and a great many shorter walks. We spent a glorious day in Berne, where the clock with its wonderful moving figures, and the bears, were the chief attractions, not to mention the shops, where most of us bought large collections of carved bears.

We also visited Solothurne once or twice, a lovely old town, also having a clock with moving figures, and many very beautiful old houses. None of us will ever forget the scenery, which was everywhere perfectly marvellous ; but not only out of doors did we thoroughly enjoy ourselves, but we spent most delightful evenings dancing and playing games, for which we chiefly have to thank Madame and Herr Illi, who, during our whole stay there, did everything in their power to make it jolly. On our last day Madame entertained us to tea, " after the English fashion," she said, though it was really far nicer!

On the way home, after a great send-off by the entire hotel, we spent the day in Basil, where we visited the Minster and the Museum, and saw the Rhine.

We all thank Miss Ghey, Miss Notley and Miss Galton for their great kindness in taking us, and giving us the best holiday we have ever had.

UNSEARCHABLE RICHES.

He was a tattered man and rude,
His bare foot trod the earth ;
And yet he sang right merrily,
As if his heart had mirth.

Wond'ring to see him thus content,
I asked as he drew nigh,
" O stranger, why dost thou rejoice ?
Wouldst not be such as I ? "

He shook his wind-tossed head and smiled,
Then turned his eyes on me ;
" Brother, for all that thou couldst give
I would not change with thee."

" Riches and wealth are mine," I said,
" And many goodly lands,
Yea, costly gems and much fine gold
Are dust within my hands."

He laughed, and flinging wide his arms,
" Behold my wealth! " he cried,
" The heavens are mine, the earth, the sun,
Do I need aught beside ? "

" In the chill night," I tempted him,
" Mid dark and silence deep,
Caress of silk and candle-light
Lull me, full soft, to sleep."

" And I at even," he replied—
" When all the fields are gold,
Have the ' caw ' of rooks for lullaby,
For bed, the friendly wold."

" Honour and power men yield to me,
And many fear my name,
A kingdom bows beneath my sway,
The chosen one of fame."

" I know not what you say," quoth he,
Men's ways I have not trod,
But brothers I had thought all men,
The children of one God.

" And lo! I too a kingdom have,
The which thou may'st not see,
Where all things pure, true, beautiful
Are treasuries for me.
My strength is suffering and joy,
The guerdon of the free."

He turned, and singing, went his way,
And the sound of his voice was glad. . . .
But I, I turned me home again,
Heavy and passing sad.

THE SHORT, YET MELANCHOLY CHRONICLE OF SIR LARAINE AND SIR GARAINE.

Now it fell upon a time, that the gentil knights, Laraine and Garaine, thought to win much worship by jousting in the Generall Tourney, held in its customary place at a Castle near by. Now it happened that these two knights, being young, were also confident, and having given their name and lineage to the Vavasour, rode to the list in high good spirits, accompanied by two minstrels and a page. But, alas! at the aforesaid lists, they were greatly foredone, being unhorsed with grevious hurt, both at the lists called the Mathy Matticks, and the lists y'clept Gryke. Whereupon, much abashed at their discomfiture, they dismissed the minstrels; yet did they keep the page to bandage them their hurts, and returned full secretly to their homes, where they awaited till the prizes should be awarded. But when it became known in the land that neither to Sir Laraine nor to Sir Garaine was there a prize, the twain, overcome with remorse and shame, mounted to the topmost turret of their castle, and they cast themselves into the moat, where they were found on the morrow, most lamentably drowned. AUTUMN CAROL.

Scarlet creeper falling low
In its Autumn tapestry;
Golden from the Painter's brush
Is each apple on the tree,
In excelsis gloria.

In the flushing of the rose,
Dusky or incarnadine,
In the languid breeze that blows
The heavy perfume like to wine,
In excelsis gloria.

In the sturdy holly trees
And their clustering berries store,
In the ripple of the waves
On some long-forgotten shore,
In excelsis gloria.

In the plaintive seagull's cry,
In the heather's fading bloom
Golden beech-trees 'gainst the sky,
Gath'ring clouds in twilight gloom,
In excelsis gloria.

In the glories of the sky,
Softly paling, dimly glowing,
Red-gold clouds in majesty,
Tempest-toss't by winds a blowing,
In excelsis gloria.

BLUE.

And is there one more blue
Beyond all these I knew?
The blue of hills and seas,
Smoke-blue, blue haze on trees,
The violet-blue of eyes,

Morning and midnight skies,
The kingfisher, the jay,
Opal and sapphire ray,
The hyacinth's honeyed head,
Iris and pansy bed,
Strong gentian of renown,
Frail harebell on the down,
Lupin and larkspur plot,
Speedwell, forget-me-not.
And the drift, the dream, the flood
Of bluebells through a wood . . .
To this abundant store
Now and henceforth one more—
Colour to shake the heart
With that strange glory and smart
Of nameless borders crossed,
Of things half found, long lost.
Ah, see this burning bright
Blue glacier-pure delight:
An inch of copper wire
Discarded, tossed in the fire!

V. H. FRIEDLAENDER.

A WEEK-END TO BE REMEMBERED.

ABOUT forty " Old Girls " and members of Staff accepted Miss Ghey's kind invitation to spend from August 1st to 5th at the old School, representing every generation from 1862 to 1924. Of these, nine were Elliott scholars, besides other holders of scholarships of later date. What changes have gradually taken place in those sixty-two years!

Until the early 'Seventies there was only the original building, opened in 1837, and that had no West Wing, no Sanatorium, no " Elliott Hall," no class-rooms, no bath-rooms, no tennis courts. Now, Hervey Terrace, St. Hilary and St. Nicholas in Sussex Square are in full use, and all the other desirable additions have been completed, as well as numerous improvements in details. We of the earlier times are glad to see the marked progress of the School. Its educational advantages, its up-to-date methods and equipment, which give it rank as one of the best girls' schools in England.

At the same time we are glad to find that some things remain unchanged. First and foremost the Founder's Ideal for the pupils to be truly loyal and Christian citizens, fulfilling their vocation in life to the best of their ability and in the spirit of our School motto : " Before Honour is Humility."

And secondly we rejoice to see no falling off in the love for the School and the wonderful comradeship which has always existed for most of the pupils of all ages and circumstances.

What a happy thought of Miss Ghey's to ask us to come together in this way, and how kindly and generously the thought was carried out! Various amusements were arranged for our entertainment : Cricket, Tennis, Concerts and other interesting events. One of the most attractive was a talk in the drawing-room after tea on Saturday over reminiscences given by pupils of different stages in the history of the School, reminiscences which were renewed in the Elliott Hall on Monday evening.

A quiet day on Sunday began with celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m., and ended with a reading by Miss Ghey of one of the little plays of St. Francis of Assisi, " Blind Eyes," followed by hymn-singing in the Elliott Hall. Charades were the special feature of Monday evening and prayers in the Elliott Hall brought this delightful Reunion to a close.

On Tuesday morning we all dispersed, refreshed in mind and spirit and full of gratitude to Miss Ghey and all who so cheerfully and efficiently helped her to give us this very happy time.

F.M.I. and H.F.B.

OLD GIRLS' WEEK-END.

THE Old Girls' week-end was held again this year at the Hall from August 1st to 5th. If you did not come this year, be sure to come next. We had a splendid time, and, if possible, we enjoyed it even more than before.

By supper time on Friday there were about forty of us, a very representative assembly, from the second Elliott scholar whose name is on the boards in the Elliott Hall, to the VIth Form who were just leaving. That evening we had dancing, then prayers and roll-call in the Elliott Hall, and made our ways to our respective dormitories, where we slept undisturbed or not, as the case might be, until Saturday.

On Saturday we amused ourselves in various ways; in the afternoon there was a tennis tournament, which unfortunately was not finished owing to rain. In the evening we had songs from some Old Girls, and a dance and recitation from Mrs. Greenwood's two little girls. Then Miss Wright played to us, which was a great joy. We were all sorry that Miss Wright could not stay the whole time, she and her motor-bike are quite one of the features of the week-ends.

On Sunday everyone did as she liked. We scattered to Church, the Downs and the sea; in the evening Miss Ghey read to us, and we had hymns in the Elliott Hall.

On Monday morning we amused ourselves with bathing, tennis and cricket. In the afternoon we had a cricket match, Past v. Present.

The match was a victory to the Present—99–79 runs, we comforted ourselves with the thought that the present can produce even finer teams than the past:—

PRESENT.		PAST.
1. K. Powell	7. Miss Galton (Cpt.)	1. R. Pavey	7. D. Cross
2. I. Laurence	8. G. Lake	2. J. Sutthery	8. P. Pavey
3. M. Emmet	9. Mrs. Walker	3. J. Peake	9. Mrs. Coad
4. N. Shelton	10. Miss Bolton	4. A. Wilmott (Cpt.)	10. J. Batson
5. M. Ashwin	11. Miss Ghey	5. E. Brocklehurst	11. K. Hopley
6. E. Outram		6. J. Blackledge

The present had very substantial help from Miss Ghey, Miss Galton, Miss Bolton and Mr. Walker, these four were no mean opponents and we very much appreciated their sparing time to play.

We were so pleased to see Miss Waugh and Miss Winterbottom when in the evening certain of our number produced a charade with scenes of S.M.H. life. After a disorderly fire-drill and a sadly elementary reading competition, we were once again present at a Founder's Day celebration. We heartily welcomed three of our trustees, and the eloquent and friendly Dowager who so graciously gave away the prizes; and we soon recognised certain of our little friends in white dresses who had not changed a whit since their IVth Form days.

After this, we heard some delightful stories of the old days at S.M.H. from Miss Innes, Miss Bayley and Mrs. Sturdy: days which, I fear, many of us would have spent hemming dusters on the schoolroom lockers, or waiting to be seen by Canon Babington. After this we had dancing, then prayers, then to bed, and dreams of next year.

Descriptions are quite inadequate and do not give any idea of how much we enjoyed ourselves.

We would again thank Miss Ghey very heartily for her kindness and hospitality, which enable us to have this meeting and to come back to the Hall. J.H.B.

WEDDING OF MISS ELAINE FOTHERINGHAM AND LIEUTENANT E. LONGSDON, R.N.

OLD S.M.H. girls will be interested to hear of Elaine Fotheringham's marriage to Lieut. E. Longsdon, R.N., of H.M.S. Revenge, which took place at Charing, Kent, on 31st July, 1923. The church was beautifully decorated with rambler roses and jessamine. The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in a simple gown of ivory charmeuse trimmed with silver lace and diamanté, and her court train was of silver brocade lined with pale pink georgette. She wore a veil of Limerick lace lent by her grandmother and carried a bouquet of carnations, sweet peas and roses. The four bridesmaids were dressed in duck-egg blue georgette and in front of them walked a small page in a sailor suit. After the ceremony a guard of Honour was formed at the church porch by brother-officers of the bridegroom as the newly-married couple left the church. The honeymoon was spent in the North of France.

WEDDING OF MISS NELLIE L. ASH AND MR. G. E. HORTON.

ON Saturday, April 19th, 1924, a quiet wedding took place at St. Paul's Church, Spalding, the bride being Nellie L. Ash and the bridegroom Mr. G. E. Horton, of North Shields. There were no bridesmaids. The best man was R. Guy Ash and the bride was given away by her father, the Rev. R. G. Ash, Vicar of St. Paul's, who also performed the marriage ceremony. The bride was dressed in navy blue crêpe de chine with hat and cloak to match. The honeymoon was spent in Rye and Mr. and Mrs. Horton will probably live in London.
